

Giving Low Power FM stations priority over current FM translator services will be detrimental to the Air1 Radio community of listeners. As a resident close to the San Jose area, I am only able to listen to Air1 through their FM translator. Air 1 provides positive messages of hope, love, acceptance, life change, and peace. It provides a daily reminder through the songs and DJ's that I am not alone and tha God is always with me.

If Air 1 were displaced by an LPFM broadcaster, the San Jose community would have no other good radio station that is encouraging and positive. Many residents will not have the opportunity to listen to encouraging stories of people's lives being changed for the better, but instead be relegated to listening to the same things about inciting rebellion, fornication, killing people, etc. I believe that Air 1 provides a service to the community by promoting values such as honesty, integrity, forgiveness, etc. It is rare in these times to find radio stations that will do anything similar. Air 1 also, promotes family wholeness and contains short messages from family counselors about how to improve family interactions.

Please do not allow LPFM to take priority over FM translators. This will have a negative impact on families and residents like me, who are encouraged to be better people and citizens because of Air 1 programming.
